ABOUT ME

Stephanie Giovinco is an illustrator and fine artist with 6 years of experience and counting. While Stephanie knew she always wanted to move into education, the Covid-19 Pandemic was her call to action. After an early acceptance to Queen College's M.A.T in Art Education Program, Stephanie is currently studying to work as a Pre-K through 12th grade art educator. She currently holds a 3.9 GPA.

EXPERIENCE

SELF EMPLOYED, 2016 - Present

Freelance Illustrator

As an illustrator, Stephanie worked with a variety of clients to bring their creative visions to life. By using a wide range of media she assisted my clients in achieving their creative goals.

- Worked with Manhead Merch to create a t-shirt line for recording artist Machine Gun Kelly for his Tickets to My Downfall album.
- Created wraparound cover for "Divine Dimes" by Lynn Van Praagh-Gratton in collaboration with Outskirts Press Publishing Company.
- Collaborate with La Belle Kidz Fashion Magazine and New York Fashion week for a series of illustrations for fashion week.
- Created a host of independent Zines in collaboration with a variety of other illustrators. This includes "The Strange and Unusual Project", "The Ineffable Oracle Deck" as well as others.

THE ANIMATION PROJECT, 2019

Mural Artist

For the summer of 2019, Stephanie worked in tandem with other artists to create a mural for The School of Authors. This mural reaching over 60 ft was used in effort to educate students and make them excited to learn.

- "The Heart of East Harlem" mural encapsulates the entire history of the area it was placed in. We worked with local historians to have an accurate timeline from prehistoric times until modern day.
- The mural included a virtual reality overlay students could use on their phones to learn more about the area in which they live.
- Students brought in to help us execute the mural in order to teach them how to paint and to involve the community in the mural's creation.
